

Simchat Torah Celebrations:
Bigger and Better this Year!
Friday, October 13, 2017 | 9:15 AM

Simchat Torah (Rejoicing in the Torah) is a time of pure delight. In merry processions, we revel in the presence of the Torah in our lives, celebrating both the completion, and immediate beginning, of our annual Torah cycle.

Please join us on Friday, October 13 at 9:15 AM as we honor our congregants.

Cantor Bernard Lowe has been selected as Chatan Torah (the groom of the Torah) and will receive the last Aliyah of the Book of Deuteronomy.

Barbara Marx has been selected as Kallat B'reishit (the bride of Genesis) and will receive the first Aliyah of the Book of Genesis.

All members of the congregation will be invited to have an Aliyah at one of several simultaneous Torah readings. The children will be given a special Aliyah called Kol HaNe'arim (all the children).

After a full year of reading from the Torah every week, we celebrate our accumulated learning and anticipate a new year of continuing to draw on the Torah's wisdom the only way Adath Israel knows how: with song, dance, and revelry! We can't wait to see you there!
